Dear Mr. Sutton,

Cash flow challenges. Lost revenues. Expensive labor costs. Back office redundancies. All are symptoms of an inefficient and inaccurate accounting and financial management system. Eliminating these inefficiencies would help you streamline back office operations allowing you to focus on achieving your main business goals.

Omnios, a leading provider of business process consulting services for mid-sized companies, will assist you to achieve those goals through a new online accounting system. The system is a fully integrated Internet-based accounting solution designed with all the power and performance advantages of traditional accounting software without expensive IT costs and maintenance. All you need is an Internet connection getting you constant access anywhere at any time.

Not only is it a fully integrated accounting system, it allows for system standardization across multi-office locations, provides real-time accounting data, and serves as a database for financial reporting from local office locations to headquarters or corporate offices. The system provides core accounting applications, such as general ledger, accounts receivable and accounts payable. It can also be tailored to fit the accounting and financial management needs critical to your multi-entity/multi-office organization.

We would like to invite you to attend a Web seminar on Tuesday, November 7 at [time] to learn about Omnios' Online Accounting System. Through the Web seminar, you will have the opportunity to learn how an online accounting system could help eliminate your organization's accounting inefficiencies and participate in a live demonstration of the system. Experienced Omnios consultants who understand business, accounting and operational processes will lead the seminar and demonstration. To register for the Web seminar, please call [name] at 847-489-[xxxx].

Omnios focuses on helping companies analyze, identify and implement improved accounting and financial management processes that will advance executive decision making, as well as organizational productivity, cash flow and revenue. We will call you in the next three to five business days to discuss Omnios and how the new online accounting system can help [organization]. To learn more about and test the new Omnios Online Accounting System, please visit www.omnios.com/online or call 847-459-8500 if you have any questions.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
